PLUS4 CREDIT UNION'S ALMEDA BRANCH RIBBON CUTTING AND GRAND OPENING CELEBRATION

HOUSTON, TX – Plus4 Credit Union, formerly Houston Postal Credit Union, held a ribbon cutting ceremony and open house on February 28th for its Almeda Genoa branch office. In attendance were the Southbelt Area Chamber of Commerce and the Houston Hispanic Chamber of Commerce along with the Board of Directors and management of Plus4 Credit Union. A luncheon followed catered by Olive Garden. The ribbon cutting ceremony kicked off a weeklong Grand Opening celebration for the office.

The festivities ended on a high note with a Grand Opening Celebration on Saturday March 4th at the new office. Over 2,000 people attended the Western-themed celebration, which included rodeo ticket giveaways every 20 minutes, carnival games, and moonwalks. The MD Anderson Blood Center was on hand to take donations, Little Ceaser's Pizza handed out pizza passes and radio station Mega 101, broadcasted live from the event. Over $10,000 in cash prizes were given away to members that day, as well as 5" black and white televisions to all who opened a new account during Grand Opening Week.

The new branch office, located at 9998 Almeda Genoa Rd, is a full service branch featuring an ATM, coin counter, a nine lane drive through facility and a new Remote Teller Station (RTS). LCD Screens, Internet banking kiosks and a kids play area make a trip to this credit union more pleasurable.
